We encourage those receiving a Business Mission Analysis to be present for their report. This allows you to hear the information firsthand and respond with questions pertinent to what is given. If you elect not to be present, the body of the report will be the same and you may attach ten questions to this form which will be asked on your behalf. One of our consultants will be happy to assist you in the forming of your questions to assure that you receive the most from what the analysis provides and to answer any other concerns you may have. We consider it a privilege to aid you in fulfilling your dreams while offering the best service or product to those you seek to serve.
